Hi, my name is Tigor Sinuraja and I am a developer.

Currently, I hold the position of a Senior ETL Developer at a Dutch company.

With 20+ years of working experience in the IT-industry I still enjoy my job every day. My main strength is the combination of creativity, pragmatism and the ability to focus. They say I have strong analytical skills, although I often rely on my intuition if I have to make a decision fast. I am certified in various process management and the DataVault modeling frameworks, I have used a number of programming languages such as Java, C#, Python and ETL/ELT and BI tools, Informatica and PowerBI among others. With this broad skill set I am able to successfully handle all the challenges mordern data can bring.

I have designed and implemented different kind of systems, from transactional applications to BI-solutions on top of datawarehouses. Programming and modeling are my passion, learning new things is my addiction. To me, this site is a platform where I can share ideas, information about new architectures and methods, programming code samples, software generators and design patterns. It's my personal knowledge base and an introduction to my professional and personal profile.
